◉ ADRA AUSTRALIA FURTHER COMMITS TO FLOOD RESPONSE

11th January 2011 News
Wahroonga, New South Wales — As the unprecedented floods across south and eastern Queensland continue to unfold the Adventist Development and Relief Agency (ADRA) Australia has committed a further $50,000 to an ongoing response, bringing their total commitment to $100,000 so far.

"The heavy rainfall that fell overnight and is forecast to continue for the remainder of the week has seen a dramatic increase in the level of destruction brought by the flood waters," says Chris Olafson, ADRA Australia Director of Emergency Management. "These funds will ensure we can provide essential welfare support for those affected in the weeks and months to come."

Donations can be made to ADRA Australia's Queensland Flood Appeal online or by calling 1800 242 372.

Weather Bureau chief Jim Davidson today described the downpour that caused the fatal Toowoomba floods as a super storm. Flash flooding throughout the region resulted in eight confirmed deaths, with 72 individuals still missing. In Brisbane, 30 suburbs remain on flood alert as a body of water bigger than Sydney harbour flows towards the Wivenhoe dam, with fears that it may overflow. Mr Davidson also warned that extreme weather events in the area are likely to continue for at least another month.

ADRA is continuing to work with local governments and agencies to monitor the situation and prepare for a post-flood response.

"The difficulty and frustration with floods is that you cannot move beyond search and rescue until the flood waters have receded," said Mr Olafson. "We could rush in and clean up a house that may be swept of its foundations the next day, potentially putting the lives of personnel and volunteers at risk."

"It may be sometime before we get a clearer picture of the needs of these communities," he said. "The important thing is that we are ready to act when the time comes."

Donations can be made to ADRA Australia's Queensland Flood Appeal online or by calling 1800 242 372. In the event that there is an excess of donations not used in response to the flooding in Queensland and surrounding areas, these funds will be committed to ADRA Australia's ongoing emergency management activities.

In the past twelve months ADRA Australia has responded to numerous national emergencies including south NSW floods and the Lennox Head tornado, along with international disasters including the Haitian earthquake and Pakistan floods. ADRA Australia currently holds formal agreements to provide emergency accommodation during times of disaster in New South Wales, Australian Capital Territory, Queensland and Western Australia.

ADRA Australia implements a wide range of development and emergency response programs at home and overseas. ADRA Australia works with people in poverty and distress to create just and positive change through empowering partnerships and responsible action.
